The New Fence on the Block

Jerith has united the warmth and old-world charm of wrought iron fence with the inexpensive functionality of chain link in its latest product, the Patriot Ornamental Wire Fence System! By combining attractive welded-wire mesh patterns with top and bottom rails, we have created a fence that is unlike any other. This fence is so innovative that it was honored at the 2004 American Business Awards as the "Best New Product".

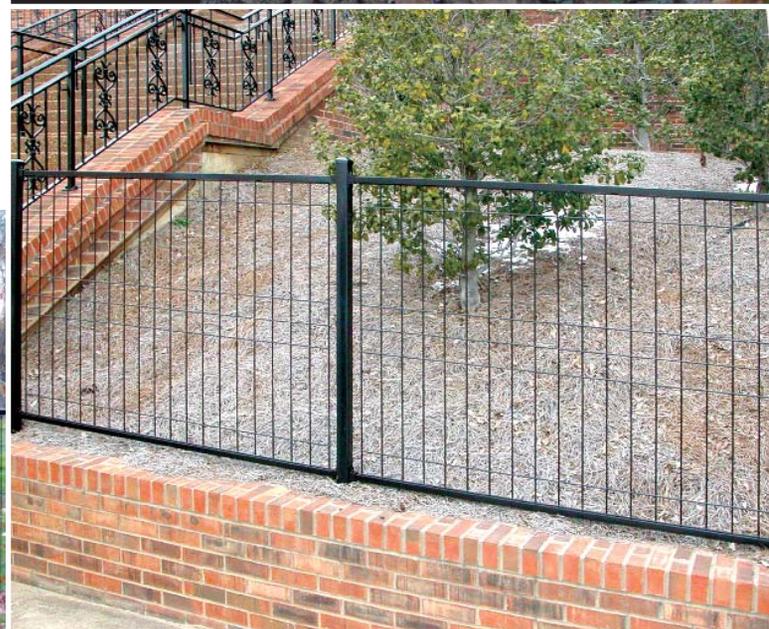

Patriot Fence has many features that set it apart from every other fence. The heavy wires in the mesh (2, 4, and 6 gauge steel) are welded at each intersection, which makes it remarkably strong. The addition of the horizontal rails increases the strength and rigidity of the fence even further. A section of this fence can hold over 500 pounds without any permanent deformation. The entire Patriot Fence system is galvanized and powder-coated for outstanding outdoor durability. This allows Jerith to offer an 8-year warranty on the fence, including its finish.

A variety of different patterns are available based on the vertical wires used in the mesh. These wires are spaced 3 1/2" apart in our 2 and 4 gauge styles to create a more open appearance so that the fence virtually disappears into the background. The 6 gauge designs have a 1 3/4" wire spacing which is very difficult to climb and meets most building codes for swimming pool fences. Matching gates for all styles are easily made at the job site using panels cut to size.

However, the best feature of the Patriot Fence is the patented mesh designs which give this fence the "style" that chain link lacks at a price that other ornamental fences can't match. Patriot Ornamental Wire Fence by Jerith is clearly THE elegant, attractive and affordable fence alternative!

Commercial / Industrial Uses

While the beauty of Jerith's Patriot Fence makes it an obvious choice for residential purposes, it is ideal for commercial and industrial applications as well. Chain link is frequently used for these types of enclosures because it is cheap and (somewhat) effective, although it is relatively easy to climb. Of course, the biggest downside to chain link is its appearance – it is just plain UGLY. Patriot Fence provides an excellent alternative because it enhances your surroundings with cost effective, attractive security.

The heavy welded wires in Patriot are up to twice as thick as typical chain link wire and are very difficult to cut. Even if a wire were cut in a Patriot panel, the welds at the other intersections would be unaffected and maintain the structural integrity of the fence. This produces a stronger fence system than chain link.

If climbing is a concern, the 6 gauge styles are very difficult to scale because of the narrow 1<sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub>" spacing of the vertical wires. There is simply no place to get a foothold. And, better yet, your property won't look like a maximum security prison after it is installed!

Stronger, harder to climb, reasonably priced, and beautiful – that is why Patriot Fence beats chain link and is the best choice for your fence.
